LAST NOVEMBER my little boy aged three years, fell against the stove while he was running and cut his head and, right after that, he broke out all over his head, face and left ear I had a good doctor Dr ——, to attend him but he got worse and the doctor could not cure him. His whole head, face and left ear were in a fearful state, and he suffered terribly I caught the disease from him and it spread all over my face and neck and even got into my eyes Nobody thought we would ever get better I felt sure we were disfigured for life. I heard of the CUTICURA REMEDIES and procured a bottle of CUTICURA RESOLVENT a box of CUTICURA, and a cake of CUTICURA SOAP and used them constantly day and night After using two bottles of RESOLVENT four boxes of CUTICURA and four cakes of SOAP we are perfectly cured without a scar My boy's skin is now like satin. ## Work of the California Republican Convention.

SUPREME JUDGE NOMINATIONS.

Six Ballots Taken for Governor without Result—Proceedings of Other State Conventions—Another Speech by Blaine

LOS ANGELES Aug 26—The republican state committee was called to order at 10 o'clock this morning. Temporary organization was made permanent The following order of business was reported Nomination of supreme judge adoption of platform and resolutions nomination of governor lieutenant governors secretary of state controller treasurer attorney general surveyor general superintendent of public instruction, and clerk of supreme court selection of state central committee

The first ballot for supreme judge resulted in the nomination of Patterson of San Joaquin who received 48 votes necessary for choice [illegible]

On the second ballot McFarland of [illegible] received [illegible] votes for second supreme judge and was declared the nominee

Recess was then taken The judges already nominated [illegible] for the long term A justice to succeed [illegible] resigned will be nominated when the convention meets again

After recess Hamilton of Alameda was nominated for supreme court judge for the unexpired term to succeed Ross

NOMINATIONS FOR GOVERNOR

After the three supreme judges had been nominated the committee on platform presented its report which was unanimously adopted

The convention then proceeded to the nomination of governor Five minutes was allowed for a nomination After some discussion it was decided to require candidates to appear and indorse the platform before being voted for

H V Morehouse of Monterey placed in nomination John F Swift The state he said, demands a man whose past record foreshadows an honest, upright and vigorous administration a man of strong moral and political courage a man in whom all can trust who knows the wants of the people who understands the relations of capital and labor and can adjust them to the best interests of the great masses of the people who as a leader will direct his party to victory a man whose feelings on the Chinese question are in sympathy with the laboring classes Give us this man said the speaker that man incorruptible learned and intelligent and when the smoke of battle rolls away next November victory will perch on our banners

C B Garrette of Yolo nominated Charles F Reed of Yolo He said that Mr Reed has been an honest citizen of Yolo for thirty five years, and has ably filled many positions of trust The candidate for governor should come from the interior The people of the interior have an idea that the politics of San Francisco are not the personification of purity and honesty [Applause and hisses] He added, that all his life Mr Reed had been a laboring man—to see him is to vote for him. If some other man can be nominated however Yolo's efforts on behalf of the republican ticket will not be abated

OTHER NOMINATIONS

Gen W H L Barnes in a brilliant speech, nominated Gen W H Dimond of San Francisco In the course of his speech he said If you nominate Dimond all the labor unions of San Francisco without exception, will support him."

Col J P Jackson nominated Chancellor Hartson of Napa

Ex Senator Newton Booth who was received with cheers, seconded the nomination of John F Swift

Charles McLay of Los Angeles seconded the nomination of Chancellor Hartson He said he was a square honest man and one of the best men in the state The speaker had known him as a merchant banker farmer and collector of internal revenue, and had never heard a word of complaint against him

George A Knight seconded the nomination of Charles F Reed of Yolo Knight's appeal was a very eloquent effort and aroused much enthusiasm

All the nominations having been made the convention then proceeded to ballot for the nomination of governor During the balloting there were occasional bursts of applause as the vote of the favorite candidates increased

First ballot for governor Dimond 153 Swift 103 Hartson 111, Reed 83

Immediately after the first ballot for governor the convention adjourned until 8 o'clock

Second ballot Dimond 1[illegible] Swift 119 Hartson 11[illegible] Reed [illegible] Morrow [illegible]

Third ballot Dimond 1[illegible] Swift 1[illegible] Hartson 103 Reed [illegible] Morrow [illegible]

Fourth ballot Dimond 1[illegible] Swift 1[illegible] Hartson 110 Reed 61 Morrow

Fifth ballot Dimond 151 Swift 120 Hartson 103 Reed 66 Morrow 3

Sixth ballot for governor—Dimond 1[illegible] Swift 120 Hartson 103 Reed 60 Morrow 3 The convention then adjourned until 10 o'clock to-morrow

ANOTHER PLANK

The following plank in the platform was introduced to-day and was not reported last night.

Resolved That the prosperity of our viticultural and horticultural industries is of paramount importance to this state In order to encourage their rapid improvement and a freer expansion of trade in domestic and foreign markets and to prevent unjust discrimination in favor of foreign products, a revision of the internal revenue laws and amendments to the tariff are demanded as of immediate necessity to our people and the legislature should by suitable legislation provide for the effective extermination of all fruit pests

ILLINOIS DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

SPRINGFIELD, Ill, Aug 26—The democratic state convention here to day nominated by acclamation H F J Ricker of Quincy for treasurer and T F Oldt of Lanark Carroll county for superintendent of public instruction The resolutions endorse Cleveland's administration Two of the planks are as follows

That the democratic party by its history and traditions, is pledged to the protection of all American citizens both native born and naturalized while sojourning in foreign lands, and we heartily commend the prompt and successful demands of President Cleveland's administration for the release of an American citizen from unjust confinement in a Mexican prison

Resolved That taxation of the people for other purposes than raising revenue for the expenses of the government economically administered is robbery under the forms of law that we are in favor of a reduction of the present unjust tariff to a revenue basis and heartily indorse the action of those democratic representatives in congress who were faithful to the cause of tariff reform

The platform approves the forfeiture of unearned land grants favors such measures and policies as will protect harmony in the relations between capital and labor and adequately protect their rights and interests of both and advocates the establishment as far as possible of boards of arbitration [illegible] disputes between employers and employes [illegible] labor sympathizes with the Irish movement for home rule and advocates liberal pensions for disabled soldiers [illegible] plank is as follows

Resolved That while we have no purpose to interfere with just laws for the regulation of traffic in intoxicating liquors and for the prevention or correction of the evils of society growing out of abuses in the [illegible] that it is not the legitimate province of the government to control the habits tastes appetites and liberties of the people so long as they are orderly and peaceable and do not encroach upon the rights of others or of society We therefore declare that the prohibition by the constitution or by the general laws of the manufacture or sale of vinous, malt or spirituous liquors would be in violation of individual and personal rights and contrary to fundamental principles of free government

PENNSYLVANIA PROHIBITION CONVENTION

HARRISBURG Pa, Aug 26—The prohibition convention was called to order at 10 o'clock this morning. Resolutions were read reciting that information had been received of the opening of a drinking saloon in the national home for disabled soldiers at Dayton Ohio protesting the opening of such place to be wrong to old soldiers and calling upon the superintendent and managers of the home to close the saloon and protect the inmates from the influence of drink [illegible] a colored preacher from Washington said the same state of affairs existed [illegible] at the home at Washington [illegible] to carry on the campaign

After the reading and adoption of the platform [illegible] was nominated for governor by acclamation A A Parker [illegible] lieutenant governor by acclamation Charles [illegible] was nominated for auditor general John N Morey for secretary of internal affairs and Rev J M Palmer (colored) for congressman at large

MICHIGAN REPUBLICAN CONVENTION

GRAND RAPIDS Mich Aug 26 The [illegible] Blair was [illegible] permanent chairman [illegible] and [illegible] was nominated by [illegible] lieutenant governor [illegible] favors a [illegible] for wool [illegible] the protection [illegible] arbitration [illegible] and the abolishment of convict labor, provided [illegible] compelled to support [illegible] the doctrine of anarchy [illegible] the enjoyment of the fruits of his personal efforts advocates that the [illegible] should be allowed to decide upon any changes in law as af[illegible] advocate free pensions to disabled veterans and [illegible] ows and condemns the president for his vetoes and for the coarse and insolent terms in which those vetoes are expressed

The ticket was completed as follows G W Osmon secretary of state G I Maltz treasurer

Recess until 2 was taken without action on the resolutions It is thought one member will present a minority report on the temperance question

The platform condemns Mormonism and advocates its suppression by rigid enforcement of the law by the civil authorities and by the military if necessary A minority report was presented pledging the republican party unreservedly to prohibition but the resolutions as reported by the majority were adopted by a large majority and the convention adjourned

TEXAS REPUBLICAN CONVENTION

WACO Aug 26—The republican state convention to day nominated a full ticket headed for governor by A M Cochrane of Dallas The platform favors submission of a prohibition amendment to the constitution to a vote of the people opposes the leasing of convicts denounces oppression of mercantile and laboring interests by monopolists and favors the Blair educational bill Resolutions of respect to the memory of Judge Bin [illegible] and Gen Grant were adopted

BLAINE AGAIN SPEAKS

LEWISTON Me Aug 26—About 4000 persons attended a republican campaign meeting at South Paris [illegible] which was addressed by Hon James G Blaine and Gen Gibson of Ohio Mr [illegible] that the democratic party [illegible] promoting the cause of [illegible] the interests of American labor He declared that the republican party had never [illegible] prohibition Mr Blaine [illegible] months Dow and other third party leaders would be sorry for their present course and be willing to acknowledge the mistake

Alexander's Movements Still Involved in Doubt.

HE IS PROBABLY SAFE AND FREE

Farther Discussion of the Irish Question in the House of Commons—A Speech by Chamberlain—Foreign Notes

SOFIA Aug 26—A single regiment of troops with the assistance of a number of military cadets accomplished the work of deposing Alexander Before proceeding against the prince the revolutionists arrested the commander of Alexander's regiment which was at Slivnitza The provisional government seeing that the populace was violently loyal to the deposed prince resigned office and liberated the commander who at once brought his regiment from Slivnitza and disarmed the regiment which had assisted in the prince's arrest

The provisional government has assured the [illegible] the movement in favor of Alexander is [illegible] and has asked the porte to reopen the railway between Constantinople and Philippopolis

NOTES FROM LONDON

LONDON Aug 26—The queen telegraphed to Bucharest yesterday for news of Prince Alexander of Bulgaria

Conflicts have taken place in the streets of Sofia between the loyalists and the revolutionists Alexander's adherents are still in possession

Cherevaroff the Russian captain in command of Prince Alexander has telegraphed to Bucharest, in reply to an inquiry that the prince was handed over to the Russian authorities

Prince Bismarck's unusual courtesy in visiting Peterhof is much commented upon

It is the general opinion that Russia will not allow Prince Alexander to re ascend the throne

THE CZAR'S INSTRUCTIONS

RENI Aug 26—The czar has ordered that Prince Alexander be forwarded to Kisseneff If he refuses to accept his abdication as an accomplished fact

Towns of Bulgaria are decorated with flags and there is a general rejoicing at the overthrow of the rebels

VIENNA Aug 26—The czar has permitted Prince Alexander to proceed to Germany, by way of Odessa

VIENNA Aug 26 A Russian telegram makes the statement that Prince Alexander has been released This is little credited here

ALEXANDER SAFE AND FREE

LONDON Aug 26—The British foreign office has been informed that Prince Alexander is both safe and free and that he is on his way to his home in Darmstadt. Dispatches state that after being conveyed out of Bulgaria the prince was set free at Reni It is believed here that when Prince Alexander learns of the counter revolution in his favor he will at once return to Sofia. His presence there will it is believed quell all disorders and restore peace to the country

ALEXANDER CROSSES THE FRONTIER

BUCHAREST, Aug 26.—Prince Alexander crossed the Austro-Russian frontier at Wolotchiska to-day The yacht which conveyed Alexander to Reni has returned to Rahovia in charge of the mate the captain having decamped at Reni The crew is made up mostly of lads from the Sofia military school

STATEMENT IN THE COMMONS

LONDON Aug 26—Ferguson, under foreign secretary stated in the commons this afternoon that loyal troops had entered Sofia Tuesday, with the consent of the powers. The exact whereabouts of Alexander the secretary said was unknown to the British government but telegrams had been forwarded to him inviting him to return and resume his rule in Bulgaria.

A RUSSIAN STATEMENT

CONSTANTINOPLE Aug 26—Nelidoff the Russian ambassador here, informed his colleagues that in the event of the success of the disorders in Bulgaria Russia would unite with other powers in considering the necessary measures for interfering

AFRAID OF RUSSIA

LONDON Aug 27—The Morning Post has a dispatch from Stamboul, saying the greatest excitement prevails there owing to the belief that Russia intends to occupy Bulgaria. The military department is in a state of feverish anxiety Orders have been given to recruit 30,000 men at Siera.

The Standard's Berlin correspondent says Emperor William on hearing of the seizure of Prince Alexander wrote a sharp letter to the czar expressing amazement and indignation When the king of Servia heard of the events at Sofia he said It is the greatest piece of infamy ever perpetrated in Europe If I knew where Alexander was I would sacrifice all I possess to afford him assistance

The report of the arrival of Alexander at Darmstadt is not confirmed

THE PRINCE WOULD NOT SIGN

NEW YORK, Aug 26—Herald's London cable special The best information amid the conflicting Bulgarian telegrams leads me to say that Prince Alexander, ignorant of the counter revolution has started for his home in Darmstadt, but will doubtless get tidings of it and return to Sofia. The revolution has ludicrously collapsed The prince was pressed by fourteen disaffected officers to sign an abdication and was promised that if he signed it he would be allowed to leave the country unmolested Neither that nor the threats which followed could induce the hero of Slivnitza to put his name to the abdication The prince never hesitated one moment but daring his aggressors to do their worst, cast from him the document that was to have secured his freedom

IN THE COMMONS

An Unsatisfactory Reply from the Government—A Speech by Chamberlain

LONDON Aug 26—Sexton (Parnellite) gave notice in the commons this morning of his intention to move the following amendment to the address in reply to the queen's speech

We humbly represent to your majesty that circumstances accountable for the recent riots in Belfast dictate the necessity for special measures to maintain order there the most urgent of these measures being the re-establishment of your majesty's authority in the district wherefrom the police have been expelled by an increase of local constabulary to such strength as will enable it to cope with any probable contingency

Sir Michael Hicks Beach replying to Russell who yesterday gave notice of his intention to move to day an adjournment of the house of commons for the purpose of ascertaining if the government [illegible] in sending Gen Sir Redvers Buller to Ireland was to establish martial law declared that the general was not sent to Ireland to establish martial law nor to strain ordinary law but merely to assist the civil authorities in the work of preserving social order and detecting and punishing crime

This reply [illegible] not deemed satisfactory by the opposition and Russell moved an adjournment The motion [illegible] consisting of all the Gladstonians [illegible] Parnellite members arose in support of the motion and Russell proceeded to contend that the policy of the government was to degrade Ireland to the level of a savage and barbarous country He made a vigorous speech in which he said Buller was only known as a military man, and it had been predicted that he (Buller) would treat the [illegible] fighters as rebels

Lord Randolph Churchill replied at length corroborating Hicks Beach's statement and defending the government policy He was opposed to adjournment. In conclusion Churchill said "The motion will not have a practical issue The government refuse to discuss the merits of Gen Buller's appointment and will have nothing more to do with the discussion" (Cheers)

Sir J E Gorst under secretary for India stated that the loss of life caused by the breaking of the Irrawaddy river embankment at Mandalay in Burmah is only twenty five No Europeans had been drowned

A SPEECH BY CHAMBERLAIN

Chamberlain resuming the debate on the address in reply to the queen's speech said that his only objection to the first part of Parnell's amendment was that it was a needless address unless the house was prepared to act upon it In regard to the second part It implied censure of the government and he would do nothing to expel the present government while that which would replace it was committed to a policy of separation He then wandered to a discussion of the question of a commission of inquiry He was cautioned [illegible] times to keep within the amendment and finally the speaker interfered Chamberlain appealed for the same indulgence as was granted to the members (Cries of "no") The speaker repeated that Mr Chamberlain must confine himself to the amendment. There were two sides to the question willingness and ability They [illegible] to know whether the tenants would be [illegible] to say if they were willing and also whether the Parnellites supported Mr Parnell's [illegible] when he said at Chicago that it was their [illegible] to make English government in Ireland impossible (Cheers) If the Parnellites repudiated that speech they must also repudiate American [illegible]

Mr Russell followed He complained that Chamberlain's speech had been replete with taunting [illegible] to his former colleagues and friends

Mr Sexton moved the adjournment of the debate

Lord Randolph Churchill asked for a promise [illegible] debate [illegible] to-morrow [illegible]

Sir William Vernon Harcourt and Mr Sexton agreed to the suggestion and the debate was adjourned

CHAMBERLAIN'S SPEECH

LONDON Aug 27 The News this morning says Mr Chamberlain's speech is the most powerful contribution in defense of the government since the meeting of the house There is clearly no prospect of his return to the liberal party He [illegible] resist any motion however just likely to bring Mr Gladstone back to power This combination of [illegible] and perversion of party [illegible] could scarcely go further."

It is reported that Lord Randolph Churchill intends to protract the Saturday sitting of the house of commons till all the amendments to his address have been disposed of

A NOVEL EXPERIMENT

LONDON Aug 27—Lord Salisbury will to-day conduct the experiment of cutting a field of oats with electric machinery.

PLEASANT EVENT AT LA CAMAS

LA CAMAS W T Aug 26.

Wednesday evening Rev J R Thompson of the Presbyterian church of Vancouver accompanied by about fifty people of Vancouver came up on the Traveler to pay the town of La Camas a social visit The crowd was marched to Pioneer hall from whence they were separated and escorted to the several homes open for their reception and entertainment

After supper the visitors took charge of the hall and put up on the stage the drama The Pilgrimage of Christiana arranged from Bunyan's Pilgrim's Progress for the benefit of the new Presbyterian church now building at this place An admission fee of 25 cents was charged at the door The hall was promptly filled The drama was finely mounted and graphically presented The following ladies and gentlemen from Vancouver in appropriate costume taking part Mrs Prof Bell Miss Ella Stoughton Miss Fannie Troup Miss Nina Troup Miss Birdie West Miss Julia Beeson Miss Maggie Baker, Miss Katie Stewart Miss Fannie Harrell Master Freddie West Master Georgie West, Master George Gillahan Master Fred Gilmore Mr R H Parker Mr C C Clarke and nearly a score of beautiful little girls

Rounds of enthusiastic applause greeted our guests and entertainers as their beautiful representations of the trials and perils of the pilgrims passed across the stage The play was complete in every part and would have done credit to professionals The affair netted a handsome sum for the church

After the close of the entertainment introductions were in order The Vancouver people were then shown through the paper mill by the light of the electric lamps It was noticeable that the presence of so many happy young people had a singular effect upon the dynamo Somehow the lights would suddenly go out and suddenly reappear with unusual brilliancy Much joyous laughter followed these exhibitions of perversity in the machine The [illegible] were growing big before sounds of merriment ceased to float from the homes of La Camas and even before the guests had all arrived [illegible] belated party of young men who started to sail up the river from Vancouver were becalmed at Fisher's landing and walked the rest of the way arriving between [illegible] and 4 o'clock A M

Next morning the Traveler took away our guests whom we will long remember The parting at the wharf was as between old friends and augurs that from this time forward there will be a fraternity of interest and feeling between the oldest and the newest town of the Northwest

BETWEEN SUNSET AND NIGHT

Between the sunset and the night
When all the earth is veiled and dim
When shadows [illegible] the roses bright
And stars far on blue distance swim
She comes across the garden close
Among the lilies shining sheen
Fairer than the fairest flower that blows
My heart's one love my spirit's queen

She lays her little hand in mine
That ne'er forgets that pressure sweet
I see her trailing garments shine
The curls that on her forehead meet
She sings the songs she used to sing
Between the sunset and the night
Until up to heaven the glad notes ring
And all the earth is full of light

But when the lamps must needs be lit
And busy footsteps seek my room
The lilies see a shadow flit
Afar beyond the scented gloom
No more she nestles near my side
To sing of joys that once have been
She leaves me lone as when she died,
My heart's one love, my spirit's queen

A [illegible] ENCROACHED

This afternoon it was given out that the Broadway car troubles [illegible] at an end for the company and the strikers had agreed and that cars would be running in two hours At midnight there are no signs of cars and it is understood that the secret meeting which [illegible] trying to solve the muddle is still in session

A conference was held this afternoon between railroad authorities and the spokesmen of the strikers The [illegible] a renewal of the proposition to try the new schedule of six trips per day with a promise that [illegible] a faithful trial of four days [illegible] schedule was not satisfactory the [illegible] would be restored This proposition was considered after midnight by the men and was [illegible] They will return to work in the morning None of the men now at work will not be discharged

The Belt line company will submit a proposition to-morrow

A demand has been made on the Sixth avenue road for reinstatement of discharged men and three days given for an answer

The Forty second street line will probably not be tied up

The executive board of the Empire Protective association has not favored a tie-up from the beginning as a matter of policy and have made persistent efforts to get the men to make some kind of compromise

A DOMESTIC SCANDAL

A Former Portlander Compelled to Support His Minor Daughter

SAN FRANCISCO Aug 26—A short time ago Nariha J Faling brought suit against her husband, Charles D Faling to compel him to provide for the maintenance and education of their minor daughter Complainant charged that defendant had abandoned his family in Portland Or and had taken up his abode in this city with a woman named Effie Winnie Cawley Defendant in his answer stated that the minor was born out of wedlock It was claimed that when he married the child's mother she was known as Mrs T G Hand and that the child was called Effie Hand It was also averred that on April [illegible] 1885 he entered into a written agreement with his wife at Portland whereby the latter received from him $6550 in notes and securities as a compromise and in order to settle all monetary differences between them, as well as the sake of peace and harmony He contended that his wife had property valued at $30,000

The mother then filed an affidavit in which she related the history of their courtship and marriage in the year 1871 Her husband who was then employed by the California & Oregon Railway Company was introduced to her by a mutual friend named Charles Pettigrew In 1872 Mr. Faling proposed marriage and was accepted by her, but her father Charles Barrett greatly opposed the match The latter was a man of influence and wealth and threatened to disinherit his daughter if she persisted in marrying the man of her choice Mr Barrett became weak and feeble and in 187[illegible] the couple assumed the relations of husband and wife and shortly after her father died they were married The result of the intimacy was the birth of a child who the mother acknowledged was born out of wedlock but she emphatically declared that Mr Faling was its father

The court ordered the latter to pay $50 per month for the support and maintenance of the little girl As a result of this controversy Charles D Faling has filed suit for divorce from Nariha J Faling The complaint contains thirty-one specific acts of alleged cruelty on his wife's part

NO HOPE FOR THE AMETHYST

SAN FRANCISCO Aug 26—The whaling tender Thomas Pope Capt Fisher, arrived in port from the Arctic this afternoon Concerning the whaler Amethyst for which search has been conducted in the Arctic Capt Fisher says it is the general opinion of shipmasters north that both the vessel and crew have been lost Capt Healey of the revenue cutter Bear has heard from all along the shores of the Arctic on both sides and nothing has been seen of either the ship or the crew Natives of the Aleutian Islands have also failed to hear anything Under these circumstances it is thought by those who have heretofore been most sanguine that the vessel and crew are gone In addition to this it is learned that in October last a vessel was seen by Capt Toby of the bark Abram Barker in about latitude [illegible] south of the Islands, and about [illegible] miles south of Ounimak pass which was evidently not under command At that time it was thought this might be the Dawn which had some trouble with her steering apparatus It is known now that it was not the Dawn and no other vessel could have been in this position except the Amethyst The supposition among shipmasters is that the ship was abandoned and the vessel was taken by a strong current safely through the pass to the south of the islands and that the crew who took to the boats were lost.

PORTLAND FRIDAY AU[illegible] 27 188[illegible]

PORTLAND'S BUSINESS SITUATION

The completion [illegible] of the Northern Pacific railroad by which Oregon and Washington were brought [illegible] connection with the general transcontinental business system of the country was but the beginning of a revolution which even now we can but [illegible] compute. The Northern [illegible] gave us direct communication, completion of the Short Line followed quickly, added the [illegible] competition. These changes, involving [illegible] have convinced the business of Portland that they have not [illegible] their own field. The [illegible] held itself [illegible] the country. Not [illegible] thing been done and it could not have been done if we had [illegible] both in business means and business means. The strain [illegible] the change from credit to cash, from monopoly to a free field, from high profits to small profits or no profits at all, has been severe. But it has been in one direction and in the general line. The fight has been with an enemy in plain view, with forces easily calculated. No sagacity has been required to see the danger, and it has called for "nerve" and capital rather than enterprise to meet it.

But the changes involved in direct railroad connection are not the only changes we must meet. Enterprises all about us are making month by month almost day by day, other conditions scarcely less trying than those to which we are just now accommodated. The Canadian Pacific has entered our business field at the north, the Northern Pacific has made its chief interest in a rival city and will soon have opened direct communication across the Cascade mountains between the Columbia river basin and Puget Sound, a port has been opened at Yaquina bay and will soon have its independent Eastern connection and the Oregon and California railroad will soon be through to a connection with California. This means an effort to get our trade at the north, an effort to control a great share of the grain export of the Columbia river basin in the interest of Puget Sound, an effort to divert the grain export of the Willamette valley to Yaquina and an effort to carry our Southern trade to San Francisco. Here is a new situation calling not only for "nerve" and capital, but for vigilance and enterprise. In half a dozen fields we must fight for our business or lose it.

We enter this new contest with many advantages. Our position is still and will be always that of the physical center of the country. Our city sits at the junction of the two great valley systems of the country, commanding water level routes east south and north. We have the commanding power of a large concentration of capital and we have a complete and strong organization of trade. The task immediately before us is to hold the business of the country through the changes now in progress. This accomplished, all else will regulate itself. It will take the courage to spend money, and possibly to lose it, in places where present loss means ultimate gain, vigilance to spy out dangers in advance and enterprise to meet them aggressively.

We cannot doubt that all the changes in progress will in the end work together for the good of Portland. They involve wide extension of railroads, large additions to our population, increase in the volume of trade, higher prizes for future success.

REDUCTION WORKS

The reduction works to be set up in [illegible] Portland will start in a small way. Of the $50,000 capital with which the company begins business only $10,000 will be spent at the beginning for plant. It is one of the advantages of this business that in increasing the capacity of established works there is no loss of old machinery, since to increase it is simply necessary to add more stamps. A modest start will be made and if the business is found profitable additions will follow. The works, which it is hoped to have in operation within two months from this time, will have a capacity for reducing forty tons per day. They will employ from twelve to fifteen men and will consume daily from eight to ten tons of flux and fuel. Among other consumptive demands will be that for a carload of limestone daily, to come from Southern Oregon. The plan of the company is to buy its ores and concentrates and reduce them on its own account, as mills buy wheat and grind it. However, the mill will be employed as a sampler and will make whenever it may be desired to do so working tests of ores from any quarter.

It has been feared by many that the enterprise would fail through the lack of ores but the company through investigations made by its own agents, has assured itself that the supply will be ample. Mr. Carel, the manager, informs us that he has, contracted for and "in sight," ores enough to operate works of the capacity contemplated for two years. He expresses the belief that it will be found desirable almost immediately to increase the capacity of the works. There will be no attempt here to work up the lead of which large quantities are to be secured. The works will take up only the precious metals and the refuse lead to [illegible] [illegible] cured for Portland. Among these who have made investments recently are Messrs W S Ladd, J F Watson, Dan [illegible], B [illegible] Smith, Van De Lashmutt, S J Hirsh, W B Honeyman, Henry Failing, L Blumauer, Capt. Gove, Dr Rex W B Robbins, R Koehler, J Brandt, jr, C H Prescott, Gen Tolman and others. The properties secured by these gentlemen are good in almost every instance, and it is believed that they will not long be idle.

COMRADE LOGAN

Logan's speeches and action on the Pacific coast have done him great harm with the G. A. R., whose good will he has anxiously sought to secure. When he first arrived he was justly very popular with the veterans, because of his brilliant military services and his clean personal character, but he lost ground rapidly with the ablest and most thoughtful men in the order from first to last. He was in charge of Gov. Alger, a lumber millionaire [illegible] between Logan and Alger it was soon made clearly evident that Logan did not come to the Pacific slope as a veteran [illegible] terms his comrades of the G. A. R. [illegible] on a stumping tour—for Logan. Logan did not for a moment mingle with the G. A. R. as Gen Sherman did. While Sherman and the other soldiers talked no politics Logan and his adjutant, Alger, talked nothing else. Logan never lost a chance to deliver himself on the Chinese question and Alger when he was not holding Logan's hat, was taking off his own to the anti Chinese agitators. Logan pushed himself to the front everywhere, to the indignation and disgust of the friends of Gen Fairchild, the newly elected commander-in-chief, who is a gentleman in manners and speech. Logan made a long political harangue on every trivial occasion, delivered demagogue tributes to the soldier, declaimed in favor of extravagant pension legislation that the G. A. R. condemn, and Alger went so far as to say that he was in favor of giving every Union soldier, sick or well, a pension of $8. This last proposition was one that excited the indignation of all intelligent veterans, [illegible] when and us that had he been an orator [illegible] he would have then and there denied that the [illegible] or self-supporting soldiers, like himself, who gave to the country only what the country had a right to demand, wanted any pension of the government. "To-day," said he, "I am proud of my service, but if as an able-bodied self supporting man, I should accept a government pension, I would part with my finest self respect." Threadbare and stilted apostrophes to the flag, specious talk about politics [illegible] Chinese acts was the staple of Logan's talk everywhere [illegible] Sherman, Fairchild [illegible] or the other real [illegible] G A R as a good opportunity to "fill for the soldier vote" [illegible] party. When [illegible] of the G. A. R., but he [illegible] he supposed [illegible] dreds of veterans who came here his warm friends and admirers, because they soon saw [illegible] comrade Logan, but as [illegible] Logan, playing the order for what it was worth and arrogantly forcing even the officers of the order to take a back seat when he was present. He always had a political speech in his mouth; he had the first place, the best seat, the best horse, because he assumed them with that divine right of kings in politics before which all courteous regard for the rights of the G. A. R. officers was sent to the wall. He [illegible] mouth and forgot to shut it. [illegible] Comrade Logan has slain himself in the house of his friends. Of his military ability there is no doubt, and the value of his services to the Union were very great. Logan is a man of clean personal character, and a good deal of robust vigor in mind and body, but he is not a statesman chiefly for the lack of saving common sense, and self restraint in speech and action. He talks fustian, he loses his temper in the senate on trifling provocations; he lacks that self respecting habit of absolute self command that made Grant an impressive figure in war or peace in the camp or the White house.

TWO TONES TO HIS VOICE.

Governor Alger evidently has two tones to his voice on the Chinese question. Here in Portland and at Tacoma he spoke within bounds of the Chinese as undesirable immigrants that ought to be lawfully gotten rid of. In San Francisco, however, he was more "intense" in his language, for he said:

> You have a black spot in your city that ought to be wiped out or the inhabitants thereof expelled. Any man who has seen what I have seen and will not say that the Chinese ought to be driven out I am ashamed of him. I think the government ought to rid you of this curse. No fouler picture could be drawn by Dante or the devil than is to be seen there. I refer, of course, to Chinatown.

Now, Gov Alger need not pretend that there are no sights this side of Dante's hell equal to the Chinese black spot on this coast. He can find as foul—we think a fouler—picture in nearly every large seaboard city of the East. The districts of N. Y. city known as Little Italy, where the low Italians live on rotten bananas and sleep with monkeys cleaner than themselves; the Jewish quarter east of the Bowery, and the low negro quarters known as Little Africa, are blacker than any spots we have on this coast. In the city of Washington, the low negro quarter is more loathsome than anything we have on this coast, and so are the tenements of the [illegible] in the mining districts of Pennsylvania. Here is a bit of description of life in Hester street, N Y city from the N Y [illegible]:

> It is just like any other down town street filled with old tumble down brick houses, a few large old brown stone dwellings, with closed windows and barred doors [illegible] scenes are enacted that will never [illegible] known to this world that are beyond [illegible] to describe, and that scorch the [illegible] lives in or the brain of those who take part in them [illegible] or drunken stupor or [illegible] cover them or blot them out.
> There are [illegible] people in every corner of this street [illegible] half a mile night and day for [illegible] either with beads [illegible] on camp stools or else crouched [illegible] bottom of their carts. The rest sleep on the floors of their rooms some time with little straw [illegible] blanket and rarely [illegible] to serve for a bed and others [illegible] the court yards or under the stairs in some dark hallways.
> What do they eat? Sometimes a bit of bread, oftener a little of the fruit on their stands, but drinking and not eating is the principal thing with them and they drink the cheapest beer that is to be obtained. They are born in this sort of life, grow up and die and never for one moment in the whole of their dark brute like lives catch a glimpse of anything better or see a ray of a higher truer existence.

The New York correspondent of THE SUNDAY OREGONIAN described "Little Africa" the other day as follows:

> There is little or no home life in this dark settlement. The family relation is but slightly held and marriage is the exception rather than the rule. They are not huddled together as the Italians are in the foul tenements of Crosby and Mott streets but they live like animals rather than as human beings, a conglomerated mixture of whites and blacks occupying every room in the tall tenements—squalid unventilated and breeding disease.

There are districts in every great city of the East, from Montreal to Washington, that are but a repetition of just such pictures as we have quoted. Even Boston has whole streets peopled by the dregs of civilization described in our extracts. We will wager there is not an honest, intelligent tourist who saw Chinatown that can not find districts quite as foul and noisome in New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Baltimore, Chicago, Washington, Memphis and New Orleans. Now the point we make is this, that the [illegible] hell [illegible] in America contains a good many [illegible] and condiments as the [illegible] Chinese at the West, and [illegible] for worse, because far more [illegible] more savage [illegible] more dangerous. The population of [illegible] for anarchy is viler, [illegible] in habit and social [illegible]. We believe that American [illegible] persons [illegible] hopeless of homogeneity [illegible] intelligent assimilation. In this sense the Mongolian is not a desirable person [illegible] undesirable than the [illegible] that are annually vomited [illegible] he is no more [illegible] do not want dynamite [illegible] socialist or chronic paupers, criminals or diseased persons or prostitutes dumped upon our Atlantic or Pacific shores. But the moral pollution and social parasites of civilization are not all Mongolians. The Chinese came here lawfully, they are industrious and law abiding, and have borne no small part in opening the productive activities of the country. There are objections to them, indeed, but it is not the Chinese who are making a cess-pool of our American civilization, and let us be frank enough to say so to these time-serving Eastern political tourists who cater to the sub-stratum of public opinion here by telling us that there "is nothing as foul as Chinatown outside of Dante's hell." They know better. There is not a seaport or lake town of 15,000 people at the East that does not contain as nasty a street or quarter as Chinatown is in Portland, and in many cities of 50,000 people there are large districts fouler and nastier in every respect. A Chinaman does wash himself, but there are thousands of low immigrants at the East who never wash themselves unless the doctor orders it at a hospital. Left to their own volition, they would no more use water externally or internally than they use a hot iron for a toothpick or swallow it as a sausage. Congress should pass a law regulating European as well as Mongolian immigration, a law by which immigrants shall henceforth be subjected to rigorous scrutiny and not permitted to land unless bearing a certificate from one of our consuls or consular agents guaranteeing the good repute and self-supporting ability of the bearer.

We do not simply want Mongolian wretches excluded; we want the whole flight of European locusts, the whole plague of trans Atlantic lice, turned back from whence they came, whether they are paupers, criminals, political incendiaries and assassin socialists, whether they are highbinders from China or anarchists from across the sea. All other objectionable immigrants save the Mongolian are welcomed, given the vote, the school, all the rights of citizenship, and yet the Mongolian, who is denied all access to the educating influences of our civilization is damned despite the fact that he behaves better than the immigrants [illegible] and to cut his throat and run him out of the country without warrant of law. A candid [illegible] said:

> The Chinese are charged with no [illegible] with our population, when restrictive laws [illegible] and individual persecution prevent them from assimilating. They are accused of no [illegible] their children when the California school [illegible] declare that Mongolian children shall not be included in the apportionment of any state moneys apportioned to the several counties for public education. They are condemned [illegible] in public affairs when they are not allowed [illegible] [illegible] shall be limited to fifteen passengers in a ship.

Let us clean our civilization, but let us erect as strict a quarantine against unclean rabble from Europe at the East as at the West; let us not discriminate between the rotten fruit of Asia and the stinking mackerel of Europe, or if we do, let us be honest enough to admit that the former is the less offensive and the more wholesome.

OHIO FREES HER MIND

> The United States senate in refusing to order an investigation of the means by which a seat in that body was procured for Henry B Payne has disappointed the just and reasonable expectation of the people of Ohio.

The above resolution of the Ohio state republican convention means the collapse of the Logan "boom." Logan was the most conspicuous republican member of the senate in refusing to order the Payne investigation upon the absurd plea that unless it could be shown that Senator Payne was personally privy to the alleged gross corruption within the legislature that secured him his seat in the U. S. senate the application for an investigation should be denied. In other words Senator Logan announces the pernicious doctrine that no legislative body has any right to purify itself, unless it can be shown that the man who occupies the stolen seat knew that it was stolen, and helped steal it by his privity to or connivance with the theft. Of course this doctrine would make it impossible for a legislative body to purify itself. It is doubtless very painful for an honorable man who is the innocent incumbent of a stolen seat in the U. S. senate to lose it, because without his knowledge persons who wish to use him bought votes enough to defeat the will of the people or vitiate his election, but the personal feelings of Senator Payne have nothing whatever to do with the matter. A seat in the U. S. senate is not primarily the possession of Mr Payne beyond recall, it belongs to the people, from whom he received it as a great trust, not as a commodity stolen by the votes of legislators corruptly sold and delivered to the lobby for money in hand.

It is the primary business of the U. S. senate, when asked by a state, to investigate a startling prima facie case of corrupt election to that body to grant the request out of respect to its own public standing, and in equity, as the last tribunal of appeal for the state whose trust has been sold, and the stolen goods delivered. It makes no difference whether the stolen goods have been delivered to and are enjoyed by a guilty or innocent holder. The goods belong to the people from whom it is charged they have been stolen, and as a man of honor Mr. Payne ought to have insisted that the senate should investigate the charge that he was the holder of a stolen seat. The investigation would have determined whether he had a seat in the senate by the gift of the people, or whether the people's trust had been sold and delivered to the lobby by the representatives of the people whose right it was to execute it, not to sell it for a bribe.

A great many democrats of the Thurman wing agree with the republicans that Senator Payne's seat in the senate was bought outright by the money of the Standard Oil company, and there was ample evidence presented that justified the appeal for an investigation and for its order by the senate. Senators Sherman, Hoar and Frye strongly insisted that the facts justified an investigation, but under the lead of Logan, who furnished the intemperate zeal and aggressive energy for Payne, and Senator Evarts, who argued the right of a legislative body to purify itself more like a shyster than a statesman, the investigation was denied. The Ohio republicans have therefore in this resolution served notice on Logan what they think of him as a statesman. Ohio is the third state in the Union in population, material wealth and resources, and probably the first state, measured by the aggregate political energy, intelligence and influence of her people. No state in the union within the last twenty five years has contributed so many men of distinction in the walks of war and peace to the history of the country as Ohio. While it is generally republican it is always a doubtful state in excited contests. The republican party cannot afford to nominate any man for president who is not acceptable to Ohio, and this resolution settles the fate of the Logan boom.

It also settles the fate of Senator Evarts as a presidential possibility. Blaine has frankly put himself out of the race, for he never would have taken the stump in Maine, if he expected to be again a candidate. He knows that the stump is no place to train for the presidential nomination.

There are indications in Eastern Washington of violation by both parties of the agreement between the Northern Pacific and the O. R. & N. Co. as to their respective "fields." The agreement was to this effect: The Northern Pacific was not to go into the country south of Snake river, and the O. R. & N. was not to extend its lines existing and under way, north of that stream. Although this compact has not been abrogated, it is quite evident that the Northern Pacific company is the backer of the Walla Walla board of trade company, which proposes a road from Walla Walla via Eureka Flat, to connect with the Northern Pacific line at Ainsworth and it is also evident that the O. R. & N. Co. stands at the back of the local company which proposes a line from Farmington to Spokane Falls and into the Coeur d'Alene mining district. We are glad not only to see the extension of transportation facilities, but the breaking of a compact which should never have been made. No railroad company has the right to assume the ownership of a field of business.

The present state officers will have served their term of four years within a few days from now, but the change in the time of holding legislative sessions from September to January postpones their retirement just four months. They will continue in office until January under the rule requiring officials to serve until their successors are "elected and qualified."

The California republican convention moves slowly. There is great competition for nominations, owing to the fact that the ticket is expected to have a walk-over. This is almost certain, unless the candidacy of Sargent for the senate gives the legislature to the democrats.

It is said to be a remote purpose of the Oregon Pacific railroad company to build a line along the coast laterally from Tillamook to Curry county.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

RUNAWAYS.—About 10 o'clock yesterday morning a team of sorrel horses attached to a wagon ran away from the corner of First and Vine streets. Before going far the team collided with some obstruction, breaking the coupling pole and detaching the fore wheels from the after portion of the wagon. At Front and D streets they ran into another team in front of Allen & Lewis's ... into a truck which was being unloaded. The end of the tongue struck the near truck horse ... inflicting a ... wound ... the four horses ... thrown down and ... extricated ... About ... o'clock a ... ACCIDENT TO A LADY.—A ... very ... a young lady ... when near the corner of ... a dog, one of those small ... little brutes ... seem to be put into this world ... to bark and pester both man and beast ... out from behind a tree and ran barking ... The horse ... began to rear and plunge, and ... threw the young lady not exactly out of her skin but completely out of her riding habit and went galloping down the street with the dress hanging from the saddle. The unpleasant ... the young lady probably saved her from being dragged to death but left her shivering where she fell, quite unhurt however except for the scare. An obliging young man ... the horse ... back to the young lady, who taking the habit from the saddle went into the nearest house and in a moment emerging in the coolest kind of a manner mounted her steed and presumably rode home.

INSANE PATIENT.—A deputy sheriff of Washington county arrived here yesterday in charge of E M. Hamlin, en route to the insane asylum at Salem. Hamlin has recently been residing near Reedville where he built a house and has been furnishing it. He is a carpenter by trade and claims to have a wife and family in Connecticut for whom he says he was fitting up the premises. Hamlin just previous to his arrest, had a row with his neighbors and was pretty badly used up. On his arrival at the county jail here he complained of feeling badly and on being examined was found to be badly bruised. In fact he is black and blue from head to foot. Hamlin's insanity is of a harmless nature. He was twice committed to the asylum by Judge Stearns. In this instance Hamlin claims his neighbors owe him a lot of money and have put up a job to get rid of him.

TO FORECLOSE MORTGAGE.—Suit has been commenced in the U S circuit court by the American Freehold Land Mortgage company of London (limited) against James M and Elizabeth C Andrews to recover $4400 on a promissory note executed at Junction City October 6 1881, payable October 1 188– with interest at 7 per cent per annum and in case of failure to pay interest within five days after due the holder may collect principal and interest at once. The note was secured by a mortgage on 520 acres of land in Lane county, 80 acres being in ... and 240 acres in ... It seems the defendants failed to pay $308 the amount of interest due January 1, 1886 for the year 1885 so plaintiffs ask to have the mortgage foreclosed and to recover $4 08 $400 attorneys fees and $215 50 taxes due on the mortgage.

PUBLIC SCHOOL NOTES.—Albina and North school districts will reopen on Monday the 30th inst. The corps will consist of the following named teachers in the various grades: First, Mr W A Wash and second Miss Carrie Pickard principals, third grade, Miss L A Wilson and Miss Spencer fourth grade, Miss Fuller and Miss Browning, fifth grade Miss Wells and Mrs Anderson sixth grade, Mrs Detmering Miss Donlan and Miss Crawford. Of the Multnomah school Mr S C Ross will be the teacher. The Vancouver school board has selected the following as teachers for the ensuing term: Principal, Prof Allen; assistants Miss Kate Padden, Miss Lettie Lyons, Miss Lucy Ebert, Miss Butler, Miss Miller.

SUIT FOR DIVORCE.—Sophia H Dale has commenced suit in the state circuit court for a divorce from Chauncey Dale and to be allowed to resume her maiden name Sophia H Webster. They were married in Portland on the 19th day of March 18– and have no children. Plaintiff alleges that at that time defendant claimed he was able to support her in luxury but for a year past he has failed utterly to provide for her and has also heaped upon her gross indignities, treated her cruelly and so on. Wherefore she prays that the bonds of matrimony existing between them be dissolved and that during the pendency of the action he be restrained from in any way interfering with her.

HONOR TO AN AMERICAN PHYSICIAN.—H N Allen, M D, a missionary physician of the Presbyterian church in Seoul Corea has been made a nobleman of the third rank by the king of Corea. Dr Allen was successful in saving the life of the queen's nephew, Ming Yong Ik, whose assassination was attempted in December 188–. This success led to the appointment of Dr Allen as physician to the royal household. Then a hospital was equipped for him by the king, and all the expenses of carrying it on are met from the exchequer. The first annual report of this hospital shows that 10,4– cases have received treatment. Of these some 260 were surgical operations.

... FOR NEW QUARTERS.—General Superintendent Clowry of the Western Union Telegraph company and party were around town yesterday looking for a more central location for the ... in this city. Very convenient quarters were offered in ... new block but it is understood the company want to get as far up town as Alder or ... street if possible. It is hoped a suitable location can be secured before Sunday on which date the party will leave for Seattle. Very likely the company will establish a branch office ... of the ... on the location of the main office.

REGATTA POSTPONED TWO WEEKS.—The regatta of the Portland Rowing Association ... which was to have taken place to-morrow afternoon has been postponed two weeks for the purpose of giving to the crews more time to practice and to the people better races. The single sculls and the four oared crews have settled down to work and with this extension of time will put themselves in form ... and ... will ... that the prizes offered by the ... P R A ...

ASSAULTED A WORKMAN.—Henry Miller, a Frenchman who keeps a bakery at Harrison and Fifth streets was up in Justice Tuttle's court yesterday for assault and battery on Jean Buabe, a man who has been working for him. Miller got mad about the manner in which Buabe was using a shovel and proceeded to express his displeasure by choking him. Buabe has since quit his situation and has also sued Miller for $55 50 wages alleged to be due. The assault and battery case will be tried to day.

FINED FOR ASSAULT.—Yesterday morning James Kelly went into the I X L saloon on First street and accused J Ferrer the proprietor, of stealing a pair of pantaloons from him and was rewarded for his pains by being fired out on his head. He had Ferrer arrested on a warrant from Justice Tuttle's court for assault and battery. Ferrer pleaded guilty and was fined $ which he paid.

SEASIDE LINE SHORTENED.—The California & Oregon railroad company has opened to travel twelve miles more of track. Trains are now running to ... which is just ... miles from Ashland. No change has been made in the schedule time on account of the opening of this additional piece of road.

A CAR LOAD.—The San Francisco Coast agency received a telegraphic order from Feckenstein & Mayer of this city for a carload of Bethesda water, which came through this week from Waukesha, Wisconsin to that house.

LAST TRIP TO THE SEASIDE.

The last trip of the Olympian this season will be made next Saturday, the 28th, returning Sunday evening. She will run this week as follows, leaving Ash street Tuesday, at 8 A. M. Thursday, at 8 A M, Saturday, at 1 P M, returning the following days. This is the last opportunity to reach the seaside and get a good, fresh, invigorating breath of salt air.

TO NEW TRADE.

A I Weiler & Co, 30 North Front street carry constantly a complete stock of all Havana as well as mixed Havana cigars, manufactured in their factory at San Francisco exclusively by the International white labor union.

Owing to their splendid facilities representing as they do, the largest factory on this coast, you will find their goods superior in quality and workmanship, and at lower prices than those of any other competing house. A trial order is respectfully solicited.

BAY COLONY ARRIVED

THE STAGE.

"Across the Continent" continues to be the attraction at the New Market theater. The snow scene in the first act and the Italian dive in the second are admirable pieces of stage setting and reflect great credit on the scenic artist. The company is a good one. Mr Mainhall's Joe Ferris, Mr Chappelle's Jack Adderly and Mr Page's "Knock 'em Down Johnny" being clever pieces of acting. The ladies of the company all acquit themselves with credit and the tout ensemble presents a series of interesting and exciting scenes which keep the audience interested to the end. The telegraph scene in the last act is a bit of realistic work which never fails to excite the audience.

Matinee to-morrow.

THE MIDIUM.—This very funny play will be given next week at the New Market by the Mainhall-Page company, which is a splendid dramatic organization and is doing good work. This play will be presented with new features and will no doubt meet with as good success as it did in San Francisco. On September 6th we are to have Jos. R. Grismer and wife in "A Hoop of Gold." Mr Grismer has an exceptionally strong company for the season.

COLE'S GREAT SHOW.

An Accident Delays the First Performance and Prevents a Parade.

A Multitude of People Disappointed but ... See the Performance To-Day—Lots of Features At the Show

W. W. And all because of a careless locomotive engineer in letting ... special train down the incline at ... went half way into the river. Some of the baggage and a little canvas got wet. But this is only one-half of the show. The race track between the seats and the rings in the shape of a letter O ... the following races were run yesterday: ... two horse standing race, race between two elephants, one between two teams of four horse ... chariot race, one team driven by a woman and one by a man, race between ... riders ... the barrow race and race between the two clowns. And then there is a company of Mexicans who throw the lasso, ride at full speed ... bucking broncos.

But the big thing of the circus after all is Dr W F Carver, whose fame as a marksman is world wide. He rides at full speed and breaks enough glass balls to show the people that he could smash a thousand if he had time. Then he dismounts and breaks doubles and singles with wonderful grace and rapidity. (The shooting is done against a large wooden screen.) He breaks separately ... thrown into the air. He rides ... robbery ... the Indians and the cowboys, the crowd goes wild.

There will be two performances to-day after noon and evening, and this is positively the last appearance here this season. Parade this morning.

Mamie.

Norristown Herald

"Mamie," said a grammar-school girl to a member of the graduating class, "have you finished your essay?"

"Oh, yes," gushed Mamie, "and it is too lovely for anything—a Princess slip of white surah, the back cut off a little below the waist line, and full breadths of silk gathered in so as to hang gracefully over the touchure, and three bias ruffles on the—"

"Why, what are you talking about?" interrupted her friend. "I mean, have you finished writing your essay, you know."

"Er—no," said Mamie, her enthusiasm rapidly diminishing, "but I have begun it, and I wish the awful thing was in Halifax."

"What's the subject?"

"The Curse of Slang."

"Gracious! Isn't that a difficult subject to write up?"

"Difficult. Well, I should giggle. I'll have to hump myself to get it finished in time for the commencement, and I've a good notion to let it slide. I might shut up the professor's optic by pleading illness, but I'm not that sort of a hairpin. But come, waltz up into my room and look at my stunning graduating duds. I'll paralyze you."

Tunnel to Ireland

... Dispatch ... London ... telegraph

It is reported, though the information has not become public through an official source, that the project as to the proposed tunnel between Donaghadee and Portpatrick is under the consideration of the government departments. It appears that Mr Douglass, engineer to the board of Irish lights, has been engaged off the coast of Donaghadee in taking soundings with the object of reporting on the subject. He has, it is stated, been summoned further north on lighthouse inspection duty, but on his return in a few days will proceed to the Scotch coast, where similar soundings will be taken off Portpatrick. A shaft will, it is said, be sunk near Donaghadee to the depth of 1000 feet in order to ascertain the nature of the strata, and it is believed a like experiment will be tried at Portpatrick. The impression prevails that the authorities regard the work of such great importance that a grant will shortly be applied for. The London & Northwestern railway management is believed also to be strongly in favor of the project.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

Spokane Falls is to have a fair beginning with the 1st of September and continuing four days.

Walla Walla Journal: Mrs. Lelia Whitcomb, who was committed to the Steilacoom asylum from this place May 22d, was discharged cured on the 20th inst. Nicholena C. Schindler, committed to the same institution September 6, 1884, was discharged cured on the 13th inst.

Walla Walla Statesman: F. B. Field's young daughter had a narrow escape from a serious accident Saturday. While watching the thresher work at her father's place her clothing became entangled in the machinery and she was severely shaken and bruised. Fortunately no bones were broken.

Cheney Leader: Mr. and Mrs. Merrill, living near Deep Creek falls, lost their only child, a little boy between three and four years old last week. The little fellow was playing on a pole pen when he fell, some of the poles falling on him, killing him almost instantly. Mrs. Merrill was alone at the time, and had to go to neighbors for assistance in extricating the little body.

W. J. Alden, a waiter on the steamer Idaho, is in jail at Seattle charged with stealing a registered package from the United States mail, on board that steamer. For some time the young fellow has been suspected of tampering with the mail, but he was not arrested until pretty good proof was obtained as to his guilt. When accused of the crime, after being arrested, Alden confessed his guilt and gave up $3 30, the contents of the last package he stole.

Adams County Record: A man going by the name of A. V. Hamlin came to Ritzville several months ago and soon gained the confidence of the community. He then married Miss Alice Hallin, daughter of Capt. Hallin. Then he purchased a hotel, paying therefor in notes. After he had been married a month and a half he left one day. An investigation showed that he had deserted his wife and creditors, leaving $1161 55 unpaid debts, mostly borrowed money. He wrote to his wife, saying he was going to St. Paul. She, however, has resolved to have nothing to do with him.

Ellensburg Localizer: Some forty-six Chinamen arrived by rail on Friday of last week. They were landed about a mile below the depot, where twenty-one men deputized by the U. S. deputy marshal were awaiting to take charge of them. A number of men also deputized by the sheriff also accompanied the Chinamen the next day on the way up to the camps of the men who employed them. Danger was apprehended and this precaution had been taken on account of the threats that have been made by lawless men, who are never so well pleased as when they are taking a hand in unlawfully driving out the harmless Chinese. It is not very brave to engage in this kind of racket, but some men think it is.

TERRITORIAL POLITICS.

A call for a people's territorial convention to be held at Tacoma, September 4, has been issued, signed by Thomas Maloney chairman, and C. Bell secretary.

Kittitas Localizer: Ezra Meeker is the strongest man the republicans can nominate for delegate. He belongs to no clique or locality. He will make a broadgauge candidate. He belongs to the whole territory and has not an enemy in it. He would poll a full vote.

Following is the ticket nominated by the people's convention in Franklin county: Sheriff, Edward Parkinson; auditor, J. W. O'Keefe; treasurer, J. J. Durant; assessor, A. H. Taylor; school superintendent, C. M. McBride; surveyor, C. K. Stahl; coroner, Martin Connor; commissioners, Thos. Winn, Sr., Daniel Page and W. P. Gray. Tickets will be printed with the territorial nominations of both parties.

San Juan democrats have nominated the following candidates for county officers: For probate judge, E. D. Warbass; sheriff, Bert Tett; auditor, J. H. Bowman; treasurer, Robert Freeman; school superintendent, Wm. Bell; county commissioners, J. W. Gray, P. E. Peterson and A. Bookman; coroner, Dr. Robert Lyall; wreckmaster, O. O'Hara; county committee, John Douglass, C. E. Setzer and A. Bookman.

Walla Walla Journal: The nomination of Voorhees is received with unadulterated satisfaction by the democracy of this locality. The belief is prevalent among the democrats and in a considerable section of the republican party that he will be returned to congress, no matter who is set up against him. This underestimates the great political power of the railroad interests, which will be exerted as never before in this territory, to compass his overthrow.

At the republican convention for Klickitat county, held at Goldendale, August 21, the following-named delegates were elected to attend the territorial convention to be held at New Tacoma, September 8, viz.: Hon. R. O. Dunbar, Hon. Sol Smith, Wm. Cumming, A. L. Miller, D. W. Pierce, R. W. Helm, A. Howard, J. C. Moffitt, J. A. Stout. A resolution was unanimously carried instructing said delegates to support the nomination of Hon. R. O. Dunbar as delegate to congress from this territory.

ALASKA NEWS.

From the Alaskan.

Those people who had the industry and enterprise to make gardens in Sitka last spring are now enjoying green peas, cauliflower, potatoes and the like, after having feasted on lettuce, radishes and greens for some two months back.

One of the largest vessels built in Alaska since our occupation has just been completed at Chicau. She is about forty tons burden, and has been built for the purpose of carrying on the lumber trade between the Chican mill and Alaskan ports. She will be called the Onyx.

In the United States district court on Thursday, after a report from Major M. P. Berry and W. Clark, of the committee appointed to examine candidates for admission to the bar, and the further examination of E. H. Brown and A. A. Starwalt in open court, they were admitted to practice.

Our Alaskan town of Juneau is entitled to credit for three wonders—a man who has earned 592½ days' wages in 600 days, a mule who committed suicide when life became a burden, and a grand juryman who aided in presenting himself for violation of law. Is there any similar record elsewhere?

We are now in the very prime of our enjoyment of the succulent berries for which Alaska is noted. The salmon berries, which have been with us three or four weeks, are now at their best, and both the dark and red whortleberries and moroshkins are in full lusciousness. Many of our housewives are putting away quantities of preserves, and no meal is suffered to pass without its dish of fresh berries.

The grandeur of the Muir glacier fades into insignificance compared with that which guards the coast of Icy bay, as seen by the voyagers on the last cruise of the Pinta. It appeared to be about forty miles long. Its hight could not be estimated, as the day was cloudy and its upper ridge obscured, but enough could be seen to indicate that it was at least three times as high as the Muir—that is to say eight or nine hundred feet.

OREGON.

Pine creek, Baker county, is dried up, and fish by the thousands can be seen dead in the bed of the stream.

Mrs. D. A. Vance, of Arlington, fell fifteen feet, by the breaking of a stair railing, and was uninjured. Her fall was broken by an old-fashioned clothes line.

Ochoco Review: Heavy fires are raging in the mountains on the Santiam road from Sweet Home to Cache creek. From Crater springs to the summit of the mountains is one continuous burn, and on Seven-mile hill the road is full of fallen trees that have been burned down.

The Age of the World.

The age of the world is great enough for our imagination, even according to the Mosaic account, without borrowing any years from the geologist. From Adam and Eve at one leap sheer down to the deluge, and then through the ancient monarchies, through Babylon and Thebes, Brahma and Abraham, to Greece and the Argonauts; whence we might start again with Orpheus and the Trojan war, the pyramids and the Olympic games, and Homer and Athens for our stages, and after a breathing space at the building of Rome, continue our journey down through Odin and Christ to—America. It is a wearisome while, and yet the lives of but sixty old women such as live under the hill, say of a century each, strung together, are sufficient to reach over the whole ground. Taking hold of hands, they would span the interval from Eve to my own mother. A respectable tea party merely, whose gossip would be universal history. The fourth old woman from myself suckled Columbus; the ninth was nurse to the Norman conqueror; the nineteenth was the Virgin Mary; the twenty-fourth the Cumean Sybil; the thirtieth was at the Trojan war, and Helen was her name; the thirty-eighth was Queen Semiramis, the sixtieth was Eve, the mother of mankind. So much for the—

Old woman that lives under the hill,
And if she's not gone she lives there still.

It will not take many great grand-daughters of hers to be in at the death of time.—Thoreau.

"I Feel So Well."

"I want to thank you for telling me of Dr. Pierce's 'Favorite Prescription,'" writes a lady to her friend. "For a long time I was unfit to attend to the work of my household. I kept about, but I felt thoroughly miserable. I had terrible backaches, and bearing-down sensations across me, and was quite weak and discouraged. I sent and got some of the medicine after receiving your letter, and it has cured me. I hardly know myself. I feel so well."

WHEAT—Receipts for the week 643 tons valley and 926 tons Walla Walla, against 1225 and 4575 tons respectively the same week last year.

The local wheat market fails to develop the activity it should at this time and weaker advices or very materially advanced bids here would be required to bring about business. Holders are possessed with the idea that the range will be higher and shippers are awaiting developments. In the interior valley is difficult to buy at all, farmers showing a preference for storing. While we are not reported bids beyond $1 21½ $1 22½, it is almost certain that something better could be had for round parcels if here. Buyers dislike to take up small parcels in the interior as affairs now are. Walla Walla and Pendleton paying prices are 45@47c net, or $1 15 and better here. Receipts from the eastern section rule very light and probably our shippers have bought in proportion. There is quite a quantity of tonnage in river to be loaded, yet no activity is displayed and needs are not especially pressing. Some buyers continue the course mentioned last week and show no desire to buy. Prices of Pacific cargoes for shipment are now quoted as one year ago, but freights hence are all of 5s lower. Wheat a year ago was $1 15 and $1 20 for the two grades. The difference in freights should apparently allow a better figure for wheat than is now proffered. To-day's advices are generally of easier markets.

The wheat markets for a week past have presented much that is of new interest. Abroad there has been political complications that threaten a resort to arms, yet the market has not been influenced by such a possibility. After so many scares nothing short of a declaration of war would now be accepted by speculation as a justifiable basis for active work. As far as can be determined the present advance abroad is wholly brought about by legitimate influences, chief among which is the belief that available supplies have been overestimated and requirements not at all exaggerated. British and continental stocks are believed to be at a low point and harvests not at all full. These matters have been pointed out for a month or two past, but it is only lately that the trade seemed to accept them as the truth. Without there being any certainty of prices going higher selling interests everywhere have tightened their hold and offerings are much reduced in consequence. Last week we furnished all available data regarding the statistical position as pointed out by mail advices. Later letters say new English wheat will not be available until well into September. Until too weeks ago deliveries from the British farmer were so light as to furnish ground for the belief that they held little. The better prices of the past two weeks brought out rather more, yet a quantity only equal to this time last year. For over a month past British reserves have been drawn upon to quite an extent. New French wheat, being in some cases damp and unfit for grinding, will require an admixture of foreign. Russian dates to July 1 give a much better outlook for crops, it being stated that in only ten governments of forty-nine is the crop deficient. Closing his letter to the Northwestern Miller, a London correspondent under date of August 9th says: "The great predominating feature in the trade is that we start the season of 1886-7 with reserve stocks at a very low ebb all the world over, and as the crops, taking them all together, will be below an average, it is evident that the present low basis of prices is incompatible with the true situation. We may require to draw further upon old stocks, but the point is that there will not be any superabundance, but rather a well-balanced supply and demand, which should tend to an altogether more profitable and buoyant business than we have experienced for three years." Cables since that date have kept the reader informed of a rising market. At this writing a quieter feeling prevails without apparent weakness. Offerings of both spot and to arrive are lighter and the continent is taking no less than of late. British imports are even with those of this time last year, but the total afloat is 765,000 quarters greater, 440,000 of this increase being for the continent. The Atlantic side is shipping with more freedom than for some time past, and Chilean wheat is extensively traded in. India is probably pursuing a quiet but steady export trade and is sending some to Australia. California marks no special activity in the way of export. Italy has a much better crop than last year, the estimated yield being 140,000,000 bushels against 118,000,000 last year. That country, which has imported rather largely in the past season, will in all probability be able to exist without foreign aid in the ensuing season. The coming crop in Australia, to be harvested four and five months hence, promises badly. The season so far has again been a very dry one, and the rain held off so long that a good proportion of the seed has failed to germinate. Houses interested say the new crop will be little better than the last one but of course there is yet time for a considerable change.

MILLSTUFF—A quiet market is had, the call being only fair. Values have not been quotably affected by the turn in wheat but may be termed firmer. Jobbing values are: bran, $14@15; shorts, $15@16; chop, $22@24. Ground barley sells out at $26 and oil meal at $32 50. San Francisco shipments lighter.

POTATOES—Market very quiet in the absence of any other than a local call and dealers handle but few. The quotation remains $1@1 10. Sweets 2c.

ONIONS—California now in light receipt, new Oregon supplying bulk of demands. The jobbing price is $1@1 10.

BUTTER—Some dealers report low stocks of choice brine. Fair to good roll is in usual receipt, selling at 20@22½c. California in large packages trading at 15@20c and local store kinds rule dull at 10@15c. Really choice roll does better in a small way at times.

FRUITS, ETC—Choice apples in some request at [illegible], Astrachans being favorite. Bartlett pears bring about $1. Few oranges dealt in. Bananas sold at $3. Grapes $1 and peaches $1 50, and all are in good supply. A car of Sicily lemons came in to-day from New York and are being sold out at $10 50. California quoted $5. Cantaloupes $2 25 and melons about $2. Tomatoes 75c. The consumption of fruit is of seasonable proportions, and the outside call good.

EGGS—For a week receipts have been a daily average of 68 cases, which supplied the light demand, but left none in stock. As a consequence the market has firmed, closing at 15c. Continued light arrivals will force a slight advance.

MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—Governments were dull and steady. The leading feature of the stock market was the extreme dullness. To-day's market was a scalpers' market. Most of the active stocks opened unchanged this morning, while the remainder showed slight declines, Kansas & Texas being down ⅛. Prices made some slight advances in early trading, but soon gave way, Western Union dropping 1 per cent. The lowest prices were generally reached shortly before noon, after which the market continued steady until the close, which was generally fractions better than the opening.

The Mail and Express says: In the mining market to-day trading was small, Horn Silver and Homestake were in better demand, and Ontario is still pressed for sale. Sutro Tunnel 7@8c, Horn Silver $2 10, Potosi 60c, Ontario 25½c, Bulwer $1 40.

AN ARAB DANCE.

What Edward Arnold, the Poet, Witnessed at Port Said.

Rochester Herald.

The Arab quarter consists at present of booths and wooden huts, and the bazars possess for experienced travelers little interest or picturesqueness. In one of them, however, we found a native cafe, where two Ghawazi girls were languidly dancing before the usual audience of low class Arabs and negro connoisseurs. One clad in scarlet, was a novice of no skill; the other—graceful and clever, with a handsome face of the old Egyptian type, worn hard and marked by a life of vice—was prettily dressed in wide trousers of purple and gold, a spangled jacket and headdress of coins and beads, with a jingling girdle of silver amulets.

Asked if she could perform for us the "balance dance," she consented to exhibit that well known Egyptian pas for the modest consideration of two francs and a bottle of English beer. The cork of this contribution being drawn, a lighted candle was fixed in the neck of the bottle, which was then placed upon the crown of her black and glossy little head. A carpet was next spread upon the sand, and extending her hands, armed with castanets, and singing in a high but not unpleasant voice, to the accompaniment of a darabouka and rebab, she swayed her lithe body in slow, rythmical motions to the words of her song and the measured beat of the musicians. "I am black, but it is the sun of thy love which has scorched me. Send me some rain of help from thy pity. I am thirsting for thee." The ghawazi began with Arabic words of this tenor, keeping exact time to her strain with foot and hand and the tremors of her thrilling, slender frame; now slowly turning round, now softly advancing and receding, now clasping her hands across her bosom or pressing them to her forehead—but perpetually keeping the bottle and lighted candle in perfect equilibrium upon the top of her head. Suddenly she sank with the change of the musical accompaniment to the ground and—while not only maintaining the completest harmony of her movements, but even making this strange posture one of grace and charm—she contrived in some dexterous manner without touching it, to shift the bottle from the top of her head to her forehead, and thus reclined on the mat, her extended fingers softly slapping the castenet, her light girlish frame palpitating from crown to feet, always in the dreamy passionate measure of the ancient love song. This was really an artistic piece of dancing, though the performer was only a common "almeh" from the delta, but the dance is, no doubt, as old as the Pharaohs, and every step and gesture traditionally handed down.

DR. JOHN BULL'S

SMITH'S TONIC SYRUP

FEVER and AGUE

Or CHILLS and FEVER,

AND ALL MALARIAL DISEASES.

The proprietor of this celebrated medicine justly claims for it a superiority over all remedies ever offered to the public for the SAFE, CERTAIN, SPEEDY and PERMANENT cure of Ague and Fever, or Chills and Fever, whether of short or long standing. He refers to the entire Western and Southern country to bear him testimony to the truth of the assertion that in no case whatever will it fail to cure if the directions are strictly followed and carried out. In a great many cases a single dose has been sufficient for a cure, and whole families have been cured by a single bottle, with a perfect restoration of the general health. It is, however, prudent, and in every case more certain to cure, if its use is continued in smaller doses for a week or two after the disease has been checked, more especially in difficult and long-standing cases. Usually this medicine will not require any aid to keep the bowels in good order. Should the patient, however, require a cathartic medicine, after having taken three or four doses of the Tonic, a single dose of KENT'S VEGETABLE FAMILY PILLS will be sufficient. Use no other.

A Good Name

At home is a tower of strength abroad. This is fully verified by Hood's Sarsaparilla, which has a reputation at home unequalled by any other medicine. In Lowell, Mass., where it is made, whole neighborhoods are taking it at the same time, and the most remarkable unsolicited testimonials are received from Lowell people. The druggists of Lowell say they sell more of Hood's Sarsaparilla than of all other Sarsaparillas or blood purifiers. The same wonderful success is extending all over the country, as the superior curative powers of Hood's Sarsaparilla become known. For any affection caused by impure blood or low state of the system, try the "peculiar medicine."
